Q: How to use multiple if statements in android program? I was wondering if there is a way to use multiple if statements in the same activity. I have created a program that requires that if 2 values are defined in a shared preference, a specific image is shown in an ImageView. In the code that I created to make it possible to show a couple of specific images in an ImageView, there is an if statement saying that if 5 is defined in the shared preference, then a different ImageView should be shown in the activity. Now, I want to make it possible for the user to select as many images as they wish by using a Button. So when the user clicks on the Button, the Images stored in the shared preference should be shown in the activity. So basically, the user can choose as many photos as they like and then it shows up in the activity. This is the code I use: if

(isPreferencingMoreThanFive()) {
sharedPreferences.edit().putInt(isPreferencingMoreThanFive(), 1).apply(); Log.d("final", "5 is selected"); images1.setVisibility(View.VISIBLE); images2.setVisibility(View.GONE); } else { images1.setVisibility(View.GONE);
