The lands Between is a place of myth, rife with a complex history of battles between the Old and New. In the north lies the Old Empire, which has been ravaged by the corrupt civilization of mankind. In the south, the New Empire has risen to power, guided by the light of the planetarium that has been built in the capital, and is in the course of expanding its influence into the lands Between. However, shortly after finishing their expansion, massive earthquakes started to rock the southern land as a sign of disaster, and a beast with a human form emerged. At the sight of the beast, there was a new hope for the Old Empire as this might be the first appearance of a savior. Thus the legend of the "Savior of the Elden" was born, and was taken up as the rallying point for reunification with the Old Empire, which was defeated by the New Empire in the ensuing wars. However, as the legend of the "Savior of the Elden" has come down to us in fragments, the overall interpretation of the lore has become blurred. Indeed, numerous interpretations have sprung up across the Lands Between, thereby forming different cults of the Savior of the Elden. In the process of the wars, many skilled summoners have been forced to unleash the power of the Elden Ring, a game-changing magic weapon, from its resting place. In a world where all eyes have turned to the north, these summoners have begun to believe that the cultists, and the divine beasts, and their masters, the Elden, are waiting just beyond the horizon. The purpose of the Elden Ring is to explore this vast world, and in the process, reveal all the information about the past battles between the Old and New Empires. You need to have the courage to explore the lands Between, and even venture beyond the borders of the Old and New Empires. THE NEWS! We are planning to make various innovations for the game! >Mirroring reality in mental simulation: Testing the construction of mental simulation of action on previous experience. According to some authors, cognitive models (CM) are conceived and developed gradually as real-life simulations. This study investigated how the growing basic knowledge of an actor impacts on the course of building a mental model (MM) as a simulation of the same real-life situation. An online goal-directed motor task requiring a visuomotor response in time was conducted to 79 participants. The results showed that by increasing in time the knowledge of the to-be-performed action (i.e., the first condition), the velocity of building an MM decreased and was accompanied by the increase in the time necessary to solve a new problem. Moreover, experience-dependent learning showed a time-related decrease of speed of building an MM. This study supports the idea that "mental simulation" may be constructed and re-constructionally modeled as a time-conscious process, always affected by the growing/repeating knowledge of the developing actor.Q: Fields issue on linked Inbox, but in Outlook I've just installed Exchange 2013 SP1 update1 on my organisation and all is looking good, except that the linked inbox app has strange fields that do not allow me to use the appointment pop up to calendar the appointment.
