Deprived of hope, they look to the heavens and cursed by their heavenly gods to enslave the entire world, they wait in patient serenity for their gods to break their curse. Unable to find a way to break the curse, the gods have entrusted their fate to a number of powerful Elden Lords, divine creatures with a mysterious past and leading lives of a public display. Despite their curse being the source of their downfall, the Elden Lords acknowledge their dignity as beings and are willing to do anything within their power to fight against their plight. Some Elden Lords believe that the curse is their destiny and that the only way to restore the world to its former glory is to rewrite it so that it would have never been. Other Elden Lords have a more rational understanding of the laws of the world and accept the current state of affairs, and they work to alleviate the suffering of the innocent people they protect. The story does not focus on the difference between the two ideals, but the choice will impact on each faction's path to redemption, leading to a thrilling conclusion. NORMAL GAMEPLAY On the basis of this, we have worked to make a game that can be enjoyed with the speed of "Mobile Real-Time Strategy" as well as "Attack and Defense Action" games. Large maps give a sense of a wide expanse. Characters travel in style while enemies take damage. LEVEL SELECTION AND IMPLEMENTATIONS The post-interaction flow of the game features a large variety of maps. Feats and talents can be activated at any time, giving a sense of the breadth of the entire game. Along with the game's strong points, we were also able to improve on aspects of the world that it is meant to be friendly to players who want to experience the game in its early stages. For example, we will be introducing the following features: 1. AI for Party Members We realize that players who want to enjoy the game easily and quickly will come to love the convenience of AI. So we've prepared a party for you that will let you enjoy the game with ease. 1. Party Members The party members are the five AI characters that can be party members. Select them from the four classes that are preselected, and it will make the game easy for you to enjoy. 2. General Information Display and No Experience Points Along with the data on the character's level, class, and other information, the display will include the overall world map and basic information on the status of the party and game. The battle point will be displayed, but you don't have to worry about points. 3. Quick Matching If you select the Quick Match option, a random party will be created, and the game will start in a hurry. There are multiple modes for each character, and you can select your favorite. There are also many combination options that will allow you to experiment. 4. Party Formation From the Start Characters can be automatically formed in a party at the start of the game, making it easy to enjoy the game. 5. Animated Graphics The characters are created with a sense of emotion. 6. Ability to Navigate With the Map The ability to navigate to the places on the map by pressing the map when the character is transported to the appropriate place. Character Port

1. Download the full version of the game 2. Install the.IPL file to the “My Documents” directory of the CD 3. Copy the “default_settings.ini” file (or your preference) to the “My Documents” directory 4. Play the gameThe general game-playing strategy has always been to: 1) find a pattern and use it, and 2) change the pattern whenever the playing field changes. I have played many competitive games, and I have come to the conclusion that these two ideas above are at the root of the reason why most people lose at games. 1. Find the pattern (if any) and use it. 2. No matter what the playing field changes, always change the pattern. Now, of course, this is only true if one is playing games, or at least competitive games. Non-competitive games are not about winning or losing, but about the experience of playing. I played X-Wing for many years with several different partners. We played the same game over and over again. Some became very good at it, some good, some average, some poor. Of course, some were more skilled than others, and, of course, some were more competitive than others. The competitive quality, however, did not make the game (or the players) better. All of the competitive quality just came along for the ride. While one of us may have won an organized tournament, it wasn't because of our other skills, but because we worked it out that day, we had the opportunity to get it all right that particular time. So many of the games we played were no longer competitive, but were just enjoyable. We enjoyed each other's company, and enjoyed the game. No one ever played or played this game for the sole reason of winning or losing. So I have started learning a new game, a cooperative board game. I am looking for people to play with to learn more about it, and to have fun playing it. There is not great strategy in this game. There is just the odd way to get some kind of pattern going, and then to change it when one of us realizes it is not working anymore. So, I am playing with my sister and others, and we are having fun so far, but I would like more experienced people to play with. If any of you want to help me learn this game, send me a PM and let
