. This software is not free and it doesnt work on windows 10. If you cant download it from the website and the crack is for windows 2000 then you will have to disable your firewall to let it through. I never said it did work on windows 10. I said it works (Incorrectly) on a Win 10 VM. I never said I would make a crack for a non free version. I have turned down free versions of software for years. I have never asked for a crack for a non free version. I dont give out free cracks. I offer support (as in free) to people who pay for support. I never said for free. I only said, "If you dont have the money for it you wont be able to get it for free." Like I said, no one can force a crack of a software on someone. "Works as a gift" does not always mean, it will work on a non free version. This software does not work on windows 10. As you can see you say it does. Click to expand... Thanks for providing further information. I know its the (poorly coded and translated) Chinese version. But it is also possible the same company made those two versions. I know nothing of Windows 10, so I can't answer that. But I sure as hell want to try this (free) beta version of Windows 10. EDIT: The pdf file you were attempting to view, was the wrong file. I now have the problem corrected. The vid you shared is nothing more than just PowerPoint. It is not remotely the same type of.rar file that is made available by the software developer. And not at all, the same type of file that you shared. As I explained, the file you shared is not the same type file at all. It is a copy of what someone attempted to install via an instruction. Do yourself a favor and resubmit the correct file you shared. Go to where the installer is downloaded (There is a tutorial at the top of the page. Have you tried that. If not please do. It will solve your problem in a jiffy. Otherwise, please resubmit the correct file you shared. c6a93da74d
