The auto corrections are really helpful, say if you've pointed out a pesky spot on a subject and want to correct it. The magic spot tool automatically snaps to new objects as it detects them - it's terrific and something I've been waiting for. This is a great feature, and 2 new features:

- Smart auto is a tool that can recognize most elements and objects and then instantly change the settings for them. It's been a long time coming, and it's come at a perfect time.
- Crop tool in Photoshop, which I've been using to simplify backgrounds, etc. However, the Crop tool doesn't work well for example on something like iPhone or iPad photos, since it can't zoom out to a crop point.

I am trying to figure out what I am missing. People keep saying you NEED to use the latest update of Lightroom to be able to use the new features. Once I finally just said F that and downgraded my Lighroom to 5.1.8. It now seems to have acted more like the old version, but without all the new bells and whistles. Hopefully it doesn't have to do with the size of the files I have on my drive. Before, for example, the only way you could "zoom in" to a point was by moving the mouse to highlight the desired point. You couldn't physically zoom into a point that wasn't one of the 4 corners, nor could you slightly enlarge a photo of your subject without actually enlarging her.

Now, however, there's a new (or rather slight update, I guess) of Crop tool. It makes cropping almost as easy as cropping a photo on an iPad. To use it, simply press the J key on your keyboard, select the crop point then drag the Crop tool to highlight your subject. When you're done cropping, press Enter and the crop option will be used. You can also zoom into the area you'd like to crop. And of course you can always move the Crop tool off to one of the corners and "zoom out".

“For the last six years, myself and my team have creatively pushed Photoshop to levels that I never imagined possible,” said Michael Walls, Senior Product Manager for Photoshop. “This MAX conference is the first time I get to share our vision with the world. The first time.” Adobe MAX attendees will be able to get hands-on with the latest innovations in Photoshop, including new features such as Share for Review, called copy and paste for objects; advanced Photoshop Web Experience; and enhancements to the current Photoshop user interface. Additionally, Photoshop users will receive a sneak preview of some exciting new features coming in the next few months, including new quick access panels and design-specific controls. New features and design directions previously announced at December’s Imaging Experience Conference will be showcased at MAX – including Adobe Sensei AI and Powerful Web Cameras. The last MAX, Adobe announced new features such as the new Premiere Clip app and Scribbles – the new features for designers were very well received. “The feedback we received was rich, and we were able to incorporate it into our product roadmap,” said Christopher Degener, Senior Product Manager of Adobe Customer Experience. “This MAX is an exciting opportunity to showcase our vision for the future of Photoshop. “We’re thrilled to be able to showcase our approach to better enable collaboration across surfaces,” said Teresa Cutter, Senior Director, Product Marketing, Photoshop. “With features like Share for Review and CreativeSync, users are able to have deep edits without the burden of having to rely on other applications. In collaboration, we’re using the power of AI to make it possible to learn what matters to users and adapt our communications and design to fit their needs.”
